

Dear Cadent:

I/we currently have a commodity account number _____ and wish to open an additional account. All information in the additional account is to be exactly the same as my/our current trading account, and has not changed.

The reason that I am opening another account is:

Specify reasons for needing another trading account

Please duplicate my original account forms and accept them as original documents.

I understand that I cannot be long and short the same commodity in the same month and will contact my broker with any questions regarding this rule.
